The ICD Section Meetings – Japan, Taiwan, Korea and AACD Meeting in San Francisco 2015

Convocation of the ICD Taiwan section

The AACD is the largest IFED member academy with about 8,000 members, and their annual meeting is always of a very high standard, scientifically and socially. This year, the meeting was held in San Francisco, and all lectures were excellent as usual with many participants attending. Japan (JAED) and Korean (KAED) academies are sister academies of AACD, and they have kept exchanges to send official speakers and delegates every year respectively. As I am also an International Councilor of the ICD (International College of Dentists),

I have recently visited the section convocations of ICD Taiwan and Korea. The ICD organization is one of the oldest international organizations of dentistry, and has many sections throughout world. To be selected as a fellow (member) of a section is a great honour, Fellows are recommended to serve people in rural areas throughout world through our profession, dentistry. I, myself, have been working for Mongolian dentistry for 18 years lecturing and h some rural areas.

With Past Presidents, Drs. Bernstein, Sullivan

With JAED Past President Dr. Sato and AACD Past President, Dr. Flax

I strongly believe that international exchanges should enhance not only friendship but also knowledges and techniques of each groups. As IFED has been growing up and evolved into as a strong international federation, let us gather and go forward to the future ideal dentistry.
